

1 Rule 404. Character evidence not admissible to prove conduct; exceptions; other 2 crimes.

3 (a) Character evidence generally. Evidence of a person's character or a trait of 4 character is not admissible for the purpose of proving action in conformity therewith on a 5 particular occasion, except:

6 (a)(1) Character of accused. Evidence of a pertinent trait of character offered by an 7 accused, or by the prosecution to rebut the same, or if evidence of a trait of character of 8 the alleged victim of the crime is offered by the accused and admitted under Rule 9 404(a)(2), evidence of the same trait of character of the accused offered by the 10 prosecution;

11 (a)(2) Character of alleged victim. Evidence of a pertinent trait of character of the 12 alleged victim of the crime offered by an accused, or by the prosecution to rebut the 13 same, or evidence of a character trait of peacefulness of the alleged victim offered by 14 the prosecution in a homicide case to rebut evidence that the alleged victim was the first 15 aggressor;

16 (a)(3) Character of witness. Evidence of the character of a witness, as provided in 17 Rules 607, 608, and 609.

18 (b) Other crimes, wrongs, or acts. Evidence of other crimes, wrongs or acts is not 19 admissible to prove the character of a person in order to show action in conformity 20 therewith. It may, however, be admissible for other purposes, such as proof of motive, 21 opportunity, intent, preparation, plan, knowledge, identity, or absence of mistake or 22 accident, provided that upon request by the accused, the prosecution in a criminal case 23 shall provide reasonable notice in advance of trial, or during trial if the court excuses 24 pretrial notice on good cause shown, of the nature of any such evidence it intends to 25 introduce at trial.

26 (c) Evidence of similar crimes in child molestation cases.

27 (c)(1) In a criminal case in which the accused is charged with child molestation, 28 evidence of the commission of other acts of child molestation may be admissible to 29 prove a propensity to commit the crime charged provided that the prosecution in a 30 criminal case shall provide reasonable notice in advance of trial, or during trial if the

31 court excuses pretrial notice on good cause shown, of the nature of any such evidence 32 it intends to introduce at trial.

33 (c)(2) For purposes of this rule “child molestation” means an act committed in 34 relation to a child under the age of 14 which would, if committed in this state, be a 35 sexual offense or an attempt to commit a sexual offense.

36 (c)(3) Rule 404(c) does not limit the admissibility of evidence otherwise admissible
37 under Rule 404(a), 404(b), or any other rule of evidence.

38 Advisory Committee Note. Rule 404 is now Federal Rule of Evidence 404 verbatim.
39 The 2001 amendments add the notice provisions already in the federal rule, add the 40 amendments made to the federal rule effective December 1, 2000, and delete language 41 added to the Utah Rule 404(b) in 1998. However, the deletion of that language is not 42 intended to reinstate the holding of State v. Doporto, 935 P.2d 484 (Utah 1997).
43 Evidence sought to be admitted under Rule 404(b) must also conform with Rules 402 44 and 403 to be admissible.
